

Important information for use of hutches and runs

Safety

Please check regularly that the mesh / wire is not damaged and that hutch and run doors are bolted shut to protect your pet from cats and other predatory animals such as foxes. If there are foxes in the vicinity it is a good idea to add another lock to the doors.

Hutch care

It is important that wooden hutches are cleaned and treated regularly otherwise the wood may dry out, become brittle or warped or start to look unsightly.

We recommend applying further coats of wood preserver if the hutch is to be left outside. Please make sure that you use non-toxic products. To make sure your hutch stays looking good, it is a good idea to position it in a protected area which is not exposed to the elements.

Liability

There is always the possibility that rabbits and other rodents will gnaw at wood products. Please note that zooplus is not liable for damage caused by your pet chewing or gnawing on to the product.
